

NICHOLLS FOR GOVERNOR

The Austin Revelle says
Carson Tribune "A Nicholls, a prominent citizen of Lander county, is favorably mentioned for Lieutenant Governor by the Republicans. Mr. Nicholls would add strength to the ticket."
The Tribune evidently means to do honor to Andrew Nicholls in the above, but it does not honor him according to his actual worth. He is much too big a man for Lieutenant Governor, and is pre-eminently the man to head the State ticket and admirably calculated to fill the office of Governor with dignity, honesty and respect, and would make a Chief Executive of which the State of Nevada need not be ashamed. If he occupied that position the people could depend upon it that he would not shirk any duty, but would stand up to his convictions of right and honor fearlessly and squarely. He has been a resident of Nevada from its infancy, he cast his fortunes with it from the first and by a steadfast straightforward adherence to business has accumulated a competency, has occupied high positions of honor and trust socially, fraternally and politically, and always with honor and satisfaction. has deservedly earned a name for solidity, uprightness and worth and while his own party would step out him almost to a unit he has hosts of friends among leading Democrats. In Western Nevada he is the choice of many—not for Lieutenant Governor—but for Governor. Spotless in private life, sober, honest, stainless in official career fearless in the discharge of every duty of good faith and devotion it seems as if he possessed every qualification not only to win the polls but also to fill the post which should be filled. Such a man is too heavy for Lieutenant Governor. It is just the kind of a man to make a Governor of.

HILLIONS IN IT.
The outlook for the Senatorial Fight in Nevada.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The Tribune's Washington special of June 17th says: Senator Fair has at last made up his mind to be a candidate for re-election. He has left Washington and gone to Nevada, to be present on the field in person, though there are no doubt other people will look after his canvass. There is millions in this fight, some Nevada people say, and they are right if Mackay is as determined, as it is said he is, to defeat his former partner, now his mortal enemy. One Nevada man, who knows the State thoroughly, tells me that it will cost Fair a cool half million to retain his seat in the Senate, while another declares that he could not get a certificate of re-election for any amount of money.

SUGGESTIONS TO COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

CARSON, June 18, 1886.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE: There is a matter of importance which should be placed before the people of Nevada, and to which the particular attention of County Commissioners throughout the State should be called.

It is the formation of small voting precincts.

There are good reasons why the present precincts should be cut up. Under the method now in vogue it takes several days to learn the result of an election.

In 1882 the election was held on Tuesday, the 7th of November, and it was Monday, the 13th, before the complete returns of Storey county were given to the public. The delay caused a great deal of complaint at that time.

At the coming election the tickets will be at least twice as long as they ever were before, for in addition to the regular State and county nominees, the people of the State will be called upon to vote for three District Judges and for or against twenty-nine proposed Constitutional amendments. Now it is known that in the past it took about three minutes to each ballot, and therefore it is fair to count on five and a half or six minutes for each one at the election next November. It will, therefore, be readily seen that with the present large voting precincts the delay in determining the result of the election will be most exasperating.

The most urgent reason for making the change is that it would reduce the opportunity for illegal proceeding in the canvass. This is a consummation devoutly to be wished by every good citizen.

The cost would be a trifle more, to be sure, but the vital interests and rights of the people demand that there should be a reform in this matter, and the proper authorities should give it due consideration.

As intimated above, the entire management of this business rests with the County Commissioners of the several counties. There are only a few places in the State, however, to which the rule of change should be applied. These are Virginia City, Carson, Reno, Eureka, Austin, Candelaria, and possibly Hawthorne. In no place should there be a precinct with more than 200 votes in it, and even less would be better.

The spirit of advancement in this respect throughout the United States is indicated by the passage of laws to secure the more speedy canvassing of the election returns, and the people of the Sagebrush State should keep up with the times. Respectfully,

WELLS DEURY.
Carson, June 17, 1886.

The Senate Committee on Commerce is still pegging away very hard on the River and Harbor bill. It has added several millions of dollars to the measure as it came from the House, and has not yet finished. By the time the committee finishes, the bill will call for close on $20,000,000, if not more.

Silver State.
Reports from Washington indicate the resumption of operations at the Carson Mint at an early day. Senator Fair, who has been persistent in his endeavors to get the Treasury Department to reopen the Mint, has been assured that his request will be complied with as soon as an appropriation is made for that purpose. Now, Congressman Woodburn has offered an amendment to the Appropriation bill for mints and assay offices, which provides for the payment of officers and employees of the Carson Mint, if the Treasury Department should deem it advisable to reopen it. This amendment has been adopted, and as the Appropriation bill will doubtless become a law within a week or ten days, it will only remain for the Treasury Department to issue an order to that effect to set the Mint in full operation.

It is a matter of comment in the western part of the State that some politicians, who have had much to say in condemnation of the Treasury Department for closing the Mint are fervently hoping deep down in their bosoms that it will not be opened.

Senator Payne's Seat.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections held another meeting this morning to discuss the charges that Senator Payne's seat was secured by bribery, but did not decide whether or not to undertake an investigation. Congressmen Little and Butterworth were present and addressed the committee in advocacy of an investigation. Senator Evans, who is reported to be disinclined to an investigation, was not present, being out of town. Further consideration of the subject was postponed until next Thursday in order to give Major Butterworth an opportunity to prepare a written statement.

Vance's bill to repeal the Civil Service bill was, on motion of Hawley, indefinitely postponed in the Senate last Friday. Yeas 33, nays 6. The Senators voting in the negative were Berry, Calla, Eastis, Harris, Jones, of Nevada, and Vance.

NOT WANTED.—About this time the scheming old political fossil is laying his hopeful wires and studying how he can make something out of the coming big election. If he can't get office he wants money, but he would rather be subsidized with some kind of an office, if it is nothing more than Secretary of State, or Justice of the Peace or Constable. He tries by any and all means to make his political influence felt and recognized, and if he fails in capturing some of the big leaves and fishes of the public feast he will go for at least one of the basketfuls of fragments. He repeats his old role of political medicant year after year, perpetually exasperated at the idea of being ignored by his party, and eternally handicapped by self-appreciation of his own importance. All such old, fossilized, chronic, political medicants are a detriment to any party to which they may attach themselves, and should be carefully and judiciously ignored. Utilize them and make them work for the benefit of the party, and then give the reward to those more practically deserving. Let both political parties give us a new deal.—Enterprise.

Lyon County Times:—"Ex-Senator Stewart is a firm believer in the eight-hour system." Is there anything which the ex-Senator thinks would assist in his political aspirations that he does not believe in? Let's have a pamphlet on the eight-hour system.—Elko Independent.

The Genoa Courier says: J. B. Pratt is in town and swears he will stump every precinct in Douglas county this Fall. His voice goes for home timber far the U. S. Senate.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. (Feb. 21-67-1yr)

Enterprise, June 18.
It will be noted by the voters of this State that while Mr. Woodburn was making his successful effort to amend the Appropriation bill, so that the employees of the Carson Mint should receive their pay, and if possible the Mint continue its operations, that Mr. Fair was at New York attending to private business. The telegraph further informs us that he intends to return to the Pacific Coast. This, if true, is very singular conduct on the part of a man holding the high position of United States Senator, and who is currently reported to be a candidate for re-election. It is probable that Congress will not adjourn for several weeks. Hardly any important measures of general utility have been passed. The appropriations, indispensable to the existence of the Government, have not been passed. Mr. Morrison has not yet had a chance to place the unwilling Democrats of his own party on record on his tariff scheme. The various bills that have passed the Senate have not yet received much attention in the House. The Inter-State Commerce bill, the Polygamy bill, the Land Forfeiture bills, the Pre-emption, Timber Culture and Desert Land bill, the Bankruptcy bill and many other measures of importance have not become laws, though they are under discussion and the public expect some disposition to be made of them before Congress adjourns. With this mass of business, requiring the most unceasing labor and the best thought of every legislator, Mr. Fair (if we are to believe his favorite method of communication to the public) proposes to wend his way homeward, to the more congenial employment of attending to his "little railroad" schemes at San Francisco. This is doubtless a much pleasanter way of passing away time for our Senator than in hearing Edmunds denounce the abominations of Mormon polygamy and explain the provisions of his bill for its extirpation from the Territory of Utah, or in hearing Cullum talk about the Inter-State Railroad and its very important bearing on the great transportation problem that is now occupying some of the best minds of the country. Possibly the keen and rapier-like sarcasm of Mr. Ingalls, when he exposes the shortcomings of the present Administration and shows the number of jail-birds it has appointed to positions of public trust (all in the name of reform), may afford Mr. Fair some entertainment and enable him for a while to forget his railroad schemes in San Francisco, and recall to his recollection that, by virtue of his office, he owes his time and his best energies to the settlement of the problems that are ever recurring in the Legislature of a great country like this. Possibly, however, our Senator may excuse his repeated absences from his seat in Congress by the consideration that his presence would not in the slightest degree affect the course of Legislation or contribute in any appreciable extent to the success of any measure whatever.

N. B. Since the above was written the telegraph informs us that Mr. Morrison's tariff motion was defeated.

The amendment offered in the House of Representatives which adds to the Appropriation bill an allowance for the for the running of the Mint was the work of Congressman Woodburn. He is highly congratulated by all of his constituents as also are the two Senators, Jones and Fair, for their diligent and effective aid in forcing the interests of the Carson Mint to the front.—Index.

Passed at the Meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee, held in Reno, June 16th.

THE LATE CAPTAIN CANAVAN.

The Democratic State Central Committee of the State of Nevada, desirous of expressing their admiration of the character of their former associate and fellow-citizen, the late Matthew Canavan, and their appreciation of the generous services rendered by him to the Democratic party of this State and their regret at his sudden and untimely death.

Resolved, That in his life Matthew Canavan was true to his principles as a Democrat, faithful and untiring in his efforts in behalf of good government, generous in all his impulses and actions, and that in his death his party has lost an able leader and his country a good citizen.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on our minutes, and that a copy be forwarded to the family of our deceased associate.

THANKS TO SENATOR FAIR.

Resolved, That as representatives of the Democratic party of Nevada, we heartily indorse the record of our Democratic United States Senator, Hon. J. G. Fair, and thank him on behalf of the people of the State for the earnest efforts he has made and is making to increase the mail facilities in the different portions of the State, demanding resumption of the Carson Mint and the erection of a Government building at that place; and his able efforts in defending the silver interests, which is the chief industry of our State; and the close attention paid to all demands made upon him by his constituents in various parts of the State.

THANKS TO COMMITTEE OFFICERS.

Resolved, That the thanks of this committee be and the same are hereby extended to Hon. J. C. Hagerman, Chairman, and H. P. Flannery, Secretary, for the able manner in which they have performed the duties of their respective offices.

FORT BIDEWELL POST.—In the Senate the other day, Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, presented a memorial adopted at a meeting of citizens of Northeastern California and Southeastern Oregon, held at Fort Bidwell April 5, 1886, remonstrating against the contemplated abandonment of Fort Bidwell, California, and setting forth many reasons for such remonstrance. They state that the post is situated in the heart of the Pute Nation, a tribe of Indians which are of a strictly nomadic character, scattered in small but innumerable bands over a vast territory, the part they played during the Bannock war of 1878 showing them to be despised; that a great portion of this tribe are opposed to living on a reservation, and would undoubtedly resort to arms were such action made compulsory, but the memorialists do not believe harsh measures necessary, for under the restraining influence of the military, whose presence they respect, they will become more and more civilized, and in a few years the country will be sufficiently settled to dispense with troops. This post, the memorialists say, as will be observed by reference to the map, is most favorably situated in a military point of view; that it exerts a moral effect as far as the Pyramid Lake Reservation on the South, the Klamath Reservation on the West, the Harney Valley and Malheur Reservation on the North and East, and that the very fact that the memorialists are located 200 miles from the nearest railroad sufficiently indicates the importance of a garrison in an isolated and sparsely settled region. Various other reasons are stated why the post should not be abandoned.

SURVEYOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE.—On account of the recent order of the Commissioner suspending public land surveys in the State, the services of T. F. Laycock, Chief Clerk in the U. S. Surveyor-General's office, have been dispensed with by Gen. Powning. Mr. Parker will continue to remain in the office as Chief Draughtsman. It is expected that Congress will make light appropriations for the office for the ensuing fiscal year.

STATE LAND OFFICE.—During the five days ending with 18th instant, applications for lands aggregating 8,520 acres were filed, on which was deposited the amount of $2,170. Meanwhile contract payment in sum of $265 were certified to the Treasurer; $2,435 being the total amount of cash receipts.

The Commencement exercises at the Seminary will be unusually interesting this year.

be a meeting to-morrow evening, June 21st, at the residence of Hon. T. F. Laycock, for the purpose of organizing a Woman's Relief Corps. All loyal ladies are requested to be present, particularly the wives, daughters and sisters of soldiers of the late war, and members of the G. A. R.; also those who expect to attend the coming encampment to be held in San Francisco this Summer.

PARADISE WILL CELEBRATE.—A note from Paradise states that the citizens are making arrangements for celebrating the forthcoming anniversary of American Independence in the lively, old-fashioned style. They are subscribing liberally, and expect to have the best celebration ever seen in the valley.

The closing exercises at Mt. St. Mary's Academy will be held on the 29th.
